DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 141-160 are pending in the application.
2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The Applicant is required to elect

- An embodiment of the claimed method wherein the target cell is one of (a) a T-lymphocyte (claim 147), (b) an APC (claim 147), (c) a B-cell (claim 148), or (d) a dendritic cell (claim 148); and
- An embodiment of the method wherein the antigen-binding region of the antibody is one of SEQ ID NOs: 14-97 (claim 150).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1648

3. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above as indicated in the species listing.

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 141-146, 149, and 151-160. .

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature of these inventions is the use of a toxin attached to an antibody that binds to an MHC molecule/peptide antigen complex to kill cells displaying the complex. Such is taught by the prior art. See e.g., Reiter et al., PNAS 94: 4631-36 (of record in the September 14, 2005 IDS). This is therefore not a special technical feature that distinguishes the claimed species over the prior art. Unity is therefore lacking.

Conclusion

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1648

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
